Palm Oil Industry Updates

- The plantation industry is classified under the 'essential services' and as such its workers are exempted from the Movement Control Order (MCO). Plantation players are allowed to continue operations subject to adherence to strict Covid-19 SOP and WHO best practices.
- CPO prices for the rest of the year are expected to remain supportive with relatively steady demand for palm oil seen from China, India, Pakistan and Netherland. CPO prices are also driven by higher domestic usage and declining palm oil stockpile.
- The total export of oil palm products for first 8 months of 2020 was 11.16 million tons, a decrease of 11.6% compared to the same quarter in 2019 (information extracted from MPOB website)
- The uncertainty of COVID19 recovery will likely exacerbate issues on shortage of labour as new foreign workers recruitment remains restricted, however, our Group remains optimistic that efforts to improve both the operational and financial efficiency will not be hampered by the above issues.
